Hospitality | Overview

2020 was a turbulent year for all industries, but undoubtedly for the hospitality sector. The Irish tourism industry took an 85% hit in revenue last year with the loss of 160,000 jobs due to Covid-19. Hotels all over the country were shut for months. The occupancy rate for the sector was less than 30% for the year – what is likely to be the worst occupancy rate in history. But after a dark year, vaccines offer us some hope for 2021.

Despite the serious impact caused by Covid, salaries in the hospitality sector remained stable if compared to the previous year. With the government's Covid-19 wage subsidy scheme, companies were able to keep and pay part of their staff. And with the arrival of 2021, the Irish Tourism Industry Confederation predicts that a recovery will start in the second half of the year. In view of this optimistic prediction, Yala's team is delighted to present our first annual salary review – a quick guide to help employers and employees in a successful recovery for the hospitality industry.

Yala's 2021 Hospitality Salary Guide provides insight into salaries for candidates looking for a new position or companies looking for new talent. Here you will find reliable salary figures for Dublin and other regions based on the knowledge and information gathered by our team of experts in the field. We decided to keep it short and sweet, so you don't waste your time going through some unnecessary information.
